Five flee two-story inferno

Bay firefighters hurt in raging house fire

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A raging three-alarm fire Saturday morning injured two Bay St. Louis firefighters and destroyed a two-story Cain Street structure in a matter of minutes.

The Hancock County Arson Investigation Squad is investigating the incident.

Chief Andrew Lizana of the Bay Fire Department was treated for second degree burns to his upper right arm and released Saturday from Hancock General Hospital in that city, Mary Perkins, hospital public relations director, said Saturday afternoon.

Bay Firefighter Jim Gaudet was admitted to the hospital intensive care unit for observation after he was treated in the emergency room for smoke inhalation and a scraped and slightly-burned neck, Perkins reported.

Chief Don McIntyre of the Waveland Fire Department reported at the accident scene that Gaudet was injured when an air conditioning window unit fell from a second-story window and struck him on the head during the fire fight.

Gaudet was wearing a protective firefighter helmet which apparently saved him from serious injury, the chief added.

The two city departments responded to the scene in addition to the East Hancock County Volunteer Fire Department which fought a persistent woods fire in the area all day which was ignited by the house blaze.

A tearful Debbie Cain reported at the accident scene that the two-story structure was owned by her father-in-law, Tom Cain and his wife, Jeanette, at Route 4, Box 198, Bay St. Louis.

The three and Debbie Cain's husband, Bruce, were upstairs at his parents' home when they smelled smoke at about 10:30 a.m. and discovered a fire in a first floor apartment where Raymond Thurber lived, she reported.

Thurber was awakened by a popping noise and they all attempted to fight the fire with a garden hose, she said.

The fire had already severed their telephone lines so Debbie Cain rushed to the E.N. Spence residence on Hollywood Drive to call for help, Grace Spence reported at the scene.

All five escaped the rapid-spreading fire evidently with only the clothes on their backs.

The Cain's two pit bull terriers also fled the raging blaze.

Perkins said Tom Cain, whom relatives at the scene said suffers from a serious heart ailment, was taken by Mobile Medic to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Gulfport.

Firefighter attempts to stop the blaze failed as tanks on the three departments' pumpers were rapidly emptied.

No water system with fire hydrants was available closely to provide an unlimited supply of a high-pressure water either, several firefighters noted.

William Field Jr., administrative chief of the volunteer department, at the scene by radio summoned the arson investigation squad.

"For two days of fun and excitement, bring the whole family to the festival," Dorsey said.

Hospital board resolutions accepted, but not acted on

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors took several procedural steps Thursday toward the construction of a new hospital facility.

Two resolutions from the County General Hospital Board of Trustees were incorporated into the board's minutes for final action at a later date.

The first resolution recommended that the board retain Dick Cowart of the law firm of Watkins, Ludlum and Stennis in Jackson as its certificate of need consultant at a cost of approximately $7,500.

Cowart will write and present the application papers which must be approved by the Mississippi Health Care Commission.

The second resolution recommended retaining J.C. Bradford and Co. Health Care Group, as the investment banker to handle the planning, marketing and sale of industrial revenue bonds for the hospital.

On a motion by Supervisor James Travica and seconded by Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner, the board agreed, 4-1 with Bert Courge voting against, to negotiate for an option to purchase another piece of property on US-90 adjacent to the proposed hospital facility site.

The board will hold two public hearings on Nov. 7 on recommendations from the County Planning Commission. The first, scheduled for 10:15 a.m., deals with changes in the Hancock County Subdivision Regulations.

If approved, the regulations will require that subdividers for subdivisions where the lots are at least three acres large must file preliminary plats as well as final plans. Also, subdividers would be required to provide a culvert for access to the subdivision.

The second hearing, set for 10:30 a.m., will discuss flood plain management regulations which are required by the National Flood Insurance Program.

The proposed regulations relate to the base flood elevations which the Federal Emergency Management Agency recently completed for Hancock County and are necessary if the county is to continue to participate in the National Flood Insurance Program.

In other business at the 9 a.m. recess meeting, the board:

- Accepted preliminary plans for Catahoula Estates Subdivision, Lambert Development Subdivision, and Phases 4 and 5 of High Point Townhouses in Diamondhead;
- Accepted the resignation of Phil Langston from the board of directors of Mississippi Gulf Coast Emergency Medical Services and appointed Judith Bradford, RN, in his stead;

- Reappointed Norton Haas for a six-year term to the Pearl River Basin Development District;
- Authorized bids for 20 light fixtures

First jail forum is Tuesday in Bay

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The first public forum sponsored by the Hancock County Jail Committee on a proposed criminal justice facility for Hancock County will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Bay Junior High School in Bay St. Louis.

The second forum will be in Waveland on Thursday night at Waveland Elementary School on St. Joseph Street at 7:30 p.m.

The two other public forums are being scheduled the next week for Pearl-Lington, and North Hancock County.

The tentative location for the Oct. 23 forum is Charles B. Murphy School; and Oct. 27, Hancock North Central School.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors recently adopted the necessary resolution to place the bond issue on the ballot.

In late August the county board accepted the final plan recommended by the Criminal Justice Facility Committee, submitted by James W. Wagner, architect.

Wagner and New Orleans architect N. C. Curtis were hired to design a 100-bed facility with a 200-bed original justice facility.

The $2.5 million bond issue is to appear on the ballot in the Nov. 8 General Election for the construction of a new jail in Hancock County.

Members of the Jail Committee appointed by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland are scheduled to appear at the various forums to answer questions submitted by the public.

The jail committee was selected after a January Grand Jury, like numerous ones in the past, recommended the construction of a new facility to replace the out-dated jail built in the mid-50's now being used by the county.

After being mailed to the many cities and villages in the county to receive recommendations of the committee, the committee members met in a public hearing at the Bay St. Louis City Hall to discuss the plan.

The committee will also hold a public hearing at the Bay St. Louis City Hall on Oct. 24.

Supervisors to consider port guard

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission and Sheriff's Department will cooperate in a cost-saving venture, if the County Board of Supervisors accepts a commission recommendation approved Thursday night.

The commission voted to rescind its prior recommendation to employ Day Detective Services to guard the commission's guardhouse and carry back at Port Blenville, and to use Sheriff's Department men to man the guardhouse.

The board will probably approve the recommendation at its Oct. 24 meeting.

The guardhouse will operate on a seven-day-per-week, 24-hour-a-day basis. The commission will pay $5.57 hourly for the service.

According to Commission Executive Director James DeBlanc, the sheriff's office has to cut back on expenditures and has been looking for space to put day offices.

DeBlanc will apparently help the sheriff's office meet its budgetary requirements and, at the same time, provide a guard for the Port Blenville facility.

The commission also recommended an expenditure of up to $15,000 to hire James Ward to drill a well at the guardhouse. The well is needed to install a bathroom and lavatory in the building.

In other business, commission members accepted the parallel taxiway plans for Stennis International Airport as approved by commission staff. These plans call for a 3,800-foot extension of the taxiway with a cross taxiway from the main runway to the new apron which is being constructed.

The engineer's cost estimate for this project is $335,000, with 90 percent to be paid by the federal government and 10 percent to be paid locally.

DeBlanc said the application for funding was approved in August and the project can be completed in six-eight weeks, depending on weather conditions.

The commission also at the 7:30 p.m. meeting at its Waveland offices:

- Authorized the advertisement of bids for sale of various surplus property;
- Discussed the meeting of the Rivers and Harbors Association to be held in Meridian on Oct. 27-28 and agreed that it would be beneficial to send a commission representative to that meeting;
- Approved the claim docket; and
- Met in executive session for about 45 minutes to discuss an industrial prospect.

Agricultural banker calls for halt to liberal farm lending policies

By JIMMY DUNNER
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

A national banking official says agriculture will survive its current economic doldrums, but basic changes in the liberal lending policies of the 1970s will be needed.

Ken Lee, associate director of the American Bankers Association agricultural bank division in Washington, D.C., also said the past lending policies are partly responsible for the current economic problems in farming.

Lee spoke to about 300 farmers and officials attending the northeast Mississippi agriculture field day held recently in Verona.

Lee told the farmers that the financially troubled agricultural industry will recover, but warned the current recovery will take changes some may not want to make.

"We are entering a new period in agricultural borrowing and lending," Lee said. "Bankers can't afford to lend and farmers can't afford to borrow like they did in the 1970s."

Ease in obtaining credit in the 1970s encouraged many farmers to borrow on their increasing land values, Lee said. That has come back to haunt both farmers and lenders as many producers have been unable to pay off debts, resulting in farm foreclosures, bad debts and high debt loads.

Lee said the political environment of the 1970s made it almost impossible for agencies like the Farmers Home Administration to refuse to make a farmer a loan.

"Used to, if a farmer was refused a loan he could go down the street and get one," Lee said. "It's a new story now. Bankers have to start requiring more of farmers if we are to work our way out."

Obtaining credit won't come as easy for farmers as lenders will require more information from producers seeking loans. Lenders need the information to stay in business themselves.

"Farmers have to do a better job of keeping production and financial records," Lee said. "Bankers must require this information of farmers to analyze a loan request."

Lee said the banking industry itself is at fault because it frequently has not required farmers to provide detailed information about their operations when requesting a loan. "We don't need any new formulas or ratios to determine if we should make a loan," he said. "We've had all the tools we needed all along. We just haven't been using them."

Lenders also need to be sure they are lending to a farmer who can carry out a farming operation and not to "someone who thinks he is a farmer," Lee said.

Lee also encouraged farmers to use a consultant in marketing crops. Most farmers and lenders aren't professional in making marketing decisions, he said. Before extending a loan, lenders also want to know what steps farmers are taking to reduce marketing risk, such as hedging in the future's market and forward contracting.

"Get with a consultant and develop a marketing plan," Lee told farmers. "You can't afford to take your crops to market and ask: 'Here it is, how much will you give me for it?'"

Farmers were also admonished to secure federal crop insurance on their crops because they can no longer depend on the Farmers Home Administration for emergency relief.

Lee said taking land that can't produce top yields out of production is a way farmers can remove some of the risks in producing a crop.

"Forget about trying to produce on marginal land," Lee said. "If the land's not delivering a profit in row crops, it's better off in pastures and woods."

Good community prices in the 1970s encouraged farmers to plant "fencerow to fencerow," Lee said, but more farmers today are realizing that bigness is not necessarily better.

Lee also emphasized the importance of farmers using the resources of various agricultural agencies in planning their farming operations. The field day was sponsored by the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station, the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, and Big Ten Development Association.

Many persons are now preparing for All Saints Day which is only a few weeks away.

The agencies responsible for removing debris, after graves of loved ones are cleaned, have a big job. Citizens can help by cleaning graves early, and in that way, the debris can be removed in time for the annual remembrance of the departed.

We notice the City of Bay St. Louis is already in the process of cleaning the Cedar Rest Cemetery.

We have also noted over the years, how some folks wait until the day before or even the morning of All Saints Day to clean grave sites and then pile the trash for the city to remove. This makes it impossible to remove the trash in time for the observance.

So we hope everyone will try and not wait until the last minute.

Hancock Industries which has been in our area for many years is now located in a portion of the old Jitney Jungle building on deMontluzin Avenue.

One of the projects offered by Hancock Industries, which employs the handicapped, is the purchase of aluminum cans.

The project in a way serves a two-fold purpose, as it helps to remove debris from our streets, in addition to giving some of the residents a job.

The many persons employed at Hancock Industries are very happy to have the jobs, as it gives them a little pocket change and keeps them busy. As a matter of a fact, this is the first time many of the employees at Hancock Industries have ever had a chance to earn a few nickles.

Other projects include the manufacture of crab traps, as well as many small pottery and other material items which make lovely Christmas Gifts.

We would like to encourage citizens just to stop by Hancock Industries, which is a branch of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Services, and see the program in operation. If you have any empty aluminum cans to sell, they will be happy to purchase them.

Mental Health is an agency supported by the United Way of Hancock County.

Preparations are underway for the First American Heritage Festival sponsored by the Krewe of Real People scheduled for next weekend.

The Saturday and Sunday event will be held at the Commagere Park on Bookter and St. Francis Streets, Bay St. Louis.

Featured bands will be three from Keesler Air Force Base, Bo and Dee, The Bay City Band, B and B Amusements, Gospel Tent, and many solo artists.

The activities will include music, dance crafts and an international buffet.

It looks like Oct. 22 and 23 will be two fun-packed days in Bay St. Louis.

There was a nice crowd of local officials, chamber members and concerned citizens Wednesday at the flag raising ceremonies at the Hancock County Hospitality Station.

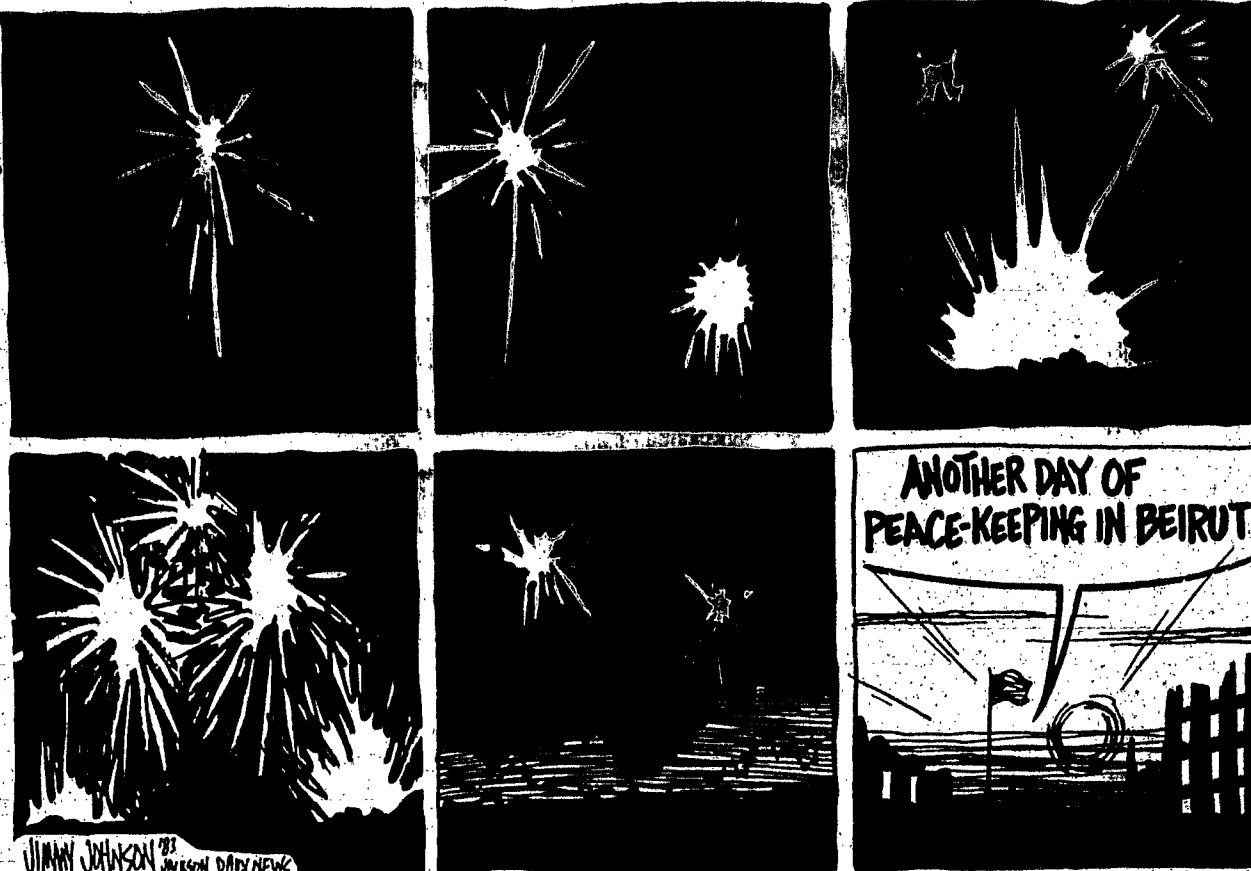

Especially when you consider the heavy rains at the time, it still did not dampen the spirits of those in attendance.

The new flag is Mississippi's in recognition of the 1984 Louisiana World Exposition in New Orleans.

The event was co-sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and the Hancock County Welcome Center.

The year of 1984 will be a big one for Hancock County, and as Stewart Nelson, guest speaker said, we have to be ready and prepared.

We are looking forward to 1984 in Hancock County.

Why not use land already owned by the county for needed facilities?

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Sir,
I have listened to the talk about the hospital, courthouse and city hall, being moved to other areas.

In my estimation, no one "gives" large packages of land unless they have a reason.

Sometimes the reason is to aid the giver, or clear a conscience.

As for buying more land, just what is wrong with the fair ground land. Isn't this owned by the county?

Why not use what we have and save the taxpayers the funds?

On that land everything could be built, jail and all.

As a native, I would hate to see the older buildings go, so perhaps these could be used as museums or something else that would aid all of the new and old residents.

Thank you,
Beverly Praetorius
Waveland

Governmental facilities all could be housed in expanded old hospital building

Dear Gentlemen,

While reading the Sea Coast Echo I decided to write this letter and offer a suggestion that might help solve some of the county's problems.

I agree that we need a new hospital, one equipped with all the modern equipment. We also need a new jail and after having worked at the courthouse for many years I think we need a new courthouse also, one with adequate parking among other things.

My suggestion is to build a new hospital first, then add a second or even a third floor to the present hospital and turn it into a new courthouse and jail.

In Ouachita Parish (Monroe, La.) the jail is on the top floor. The courtrooms are on the second floor and everything else is on the ground floor.

They even have an exercise yard on the roof for the prisoners. It is a very old building but very adequate.

I'm not an engineer or an architect but I remember when the present hospital was built one of the selling points was the fact that the design would allow for expansion upward with additional floors.

Before we jump into plans for a new jail, next to a courthouse that is too small, let's do some thinking.

1. We have offices in Trentel's building that should be in the courthouse and we have school, welfare, veterans service, and health department offices scattered all over the city.

2. When and if we build a new jail, we use another parcel of land that was to be used for parking.

3. If we build a new hospital we will have a beautiful building laying vacant.

Think about it!

Thanks,
Lou Wilkerson

SERVING THE DEAF

All deaf persons and those interested in the deaf are invited to attend the 6th annual conference of the Council of Organizations Serving Deaf Mississippians Oct. 24-26 at Jackson's Holiday Inn North.

Following the theme, "Mental Health and Deafness," the conference is designed to address mental health as it relates to persons who are deaf or have impaired hearing.

"Some of the nation's foremost authorities on mental health and deafness will be on the program," said Jan Larsen, director of the Governor's Office of Handicapped Services, which is assisting the council in planning the conference.

The keynote speaker for the Oct. 24 session, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will be Dr. T. Alan Hurwitz, president, National Association of the Deaf, and associate professor, National Technical Institute for the Deaf.

Gov. William Winter will speak at 9 a.m. on Oct. 25, and he will be followed by Hurwitz in the general session. The Oct. 25 luncheon speaker will be Dr. Victor Galloway, executive director, Texas School for the Deaf, whose subject will be "Deaf Awareness." The day's workshop presenters will be Dr. Barbara Brauer, director of mental health and deafness research, Gallaudet Research Institute, Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C.; Dr. Bill Woodcock, director, University of California Center on Deafness; and Dr. Bill Woodcock, professor of special education and rehabilitation, University of Tennessee.

Oct. 26 workshop presenters will be Dr. James Woodward, professor of linguistics, Gallaudet College; and Millie Stansfield, research associate, University of California Center on Deafness. A 1:30 p.m. concluding workshop will be conducted by Woodward.

IN CONGRESS

By Cong.
Trent Lott

CLOSE TO HOME

When Members of Congress manage to get out of Washington for a while in the summertime, some pundits have a field day suggesting the nation's lawmakers are really taking a month-long vacation.

These journalists, mostly Washington-based, seem to think the work stops when Congress is out of session. While it is true enough that voting on the House floor takes a temporary break, it is also true that a great deal of congressional business continues.

I think it is helpful for elected officials and reporters alike to travel through the various states to get a firsthand feeling for issues of interest to people.

The main purpose behind the break is to allow Members of Congress the chance to return to their home districts, spending some needed time with the people they represent. I can tell you that for me it is always a refreshing experience, one which some of my colleagues in Congress should enjoy more frequently.

During this 1983 break, I was on the road to seven of the 12 counties in the district, doing a bit of speaking and a lot more listening at a variety of events. From the civic clubs of Picayune, Pascagoula and Waynesboro to the communities of McLain and Bonndale, I found people willing to share their views.

I met with retired teachers, blacks, Ingalls Shipyard workers, home builders, military officers and audubon representatives interested in saving Mississippi's championship magnolia tree in George County.

I visited in Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, Vancleave and Kiln, too, hearing what local people had to say on a number of topics.

But the two most prevalent issues brought to my attention were the continuing uncertainty over interest rates and the situation in Central America.

Interest rates, in my opinion, remain a key brick in our economic rebuilding program. Currently, the average interest rate on a conventional mortgage is around 14 percent in most areas of the country and, consequently, housing starts were reported to have declined by 6.5 percent last month.

While supervision of the money supply rests in the hands of the Federal Reserve Board, which can cause interest rates to go up and down, Congress must do what it can to help stabilize the situation by reducing federal spending and the deficit.

In Central America, the United States is trying to assist its front porch neighbors toward long term stability. If the presence of America's military personnel and ships helps protect our vital interests in the region, then it should be continued.

We must guard carefully, however, against getting our personnel into an unpopular, no-win situation. In my opinion, the American mission in Central America should be clear cut, and accomplished as quickly as possible.

"When the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe."

Pass loses homecoming game, 25-13

Penalties plague Pirates, Blue Devils take advantage

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Penalties plagued the Pass Christian High School Pirates in their homecoming game Friday night.

The Pearl River Central Blue Devils took advantage of the situation and won the contest, 25-13.

The Pirates received every penalty which repeatedly pushed back key scoring drives in the game during a seasonably chilly but clear evening at Francis S. McDonald Stadium in the Pass.

In one succession of penalties late in the third quarter, the Pirate offense was driven back more than 50 yards and lost ball possession.

Pearl River was first on the scoreboard with four minutes and 58 seconds left in the first quarter when Blue Devil Quarterback Gerald Tillman pulled a sneaker on an option play through the middle of the Pirate line on the PRC 42-yard-line and scampered down field for the touchdown.

But the Blue Devils failed in the extra point attempt in which the ball sailed to the right of the goal posts and the score stayed at 6-0.

The Pirates then mounted their only successful scoring drive of the evening early in the second quarter from the Blue Devil 34.

Then on the PRC 22, Pass Quarterback Joey Rogers pitched the ball to Pirate Wide Out Irvin Hall who bulled into the end zone dragging a couple of Blue Devil defenders with him.

Pirate Field Goal Specialist Billy Bonney booted a good extra point to up the score to the Pass' favor, 7-6.

But late in the first half, Blue Devil Back Jason Owen intercepted a Rogers pass on about the Pirate 30-yard-line and scrambled into the end zone.

The Blue Devils again botched the conversion attempt and left the halftime score at 12-7.

After a scoreless third quarter, Pearl River Central Back Chip Johnson recovered a questionable Pirate fumble on the Pass 18 which resulted from a dropped pass reception by Pirate Tight End Rodney Conway.

In the following first down, Tillman threw a pass to PRC End Jonathan Carter in the end zone, but another bungled conversion attempt left the score at 16-7.

Pearl River's final TD occurred in the middle of the final quarter when Hall fumbled away another Rogers pass reception to the Blue Devils on the 50.

In a third and four situation on the Pirate 44, Tillman on a draw play handed off to Back

Irvin Templet who scrambled through the middle of the Pirate line and scampered in to the end zone.

The Blue Devils' only good PAT upped the score to 25-7.

The Pirates final score occurred in the closing few seconds of the game when Lineman Elgret Belvin intercepted a Tillman pass on the Pirates 30 and boogied all the way for the TD.

With game time over, a Roger's pass was again intercepted by the Blue Devils and left the game score at 25-13.

Tigers edge Hornets, 17-7

By RANDY PONDER

Bay High School celebrated homecoming in a successful fashion Friday night, stopping a stubborn East Central team 17-7 at Tiger Stadium.

The Hornets, perennial losers, gave the Tigers all they could handle, moving into scoring position several times only to be thwarted by their own mistakes.

Bay High scored first in the opening quarter on an impressive 63 yard march.

With the football on their own 17, the Tigers drew an off-sides penalty from the Hornets to start the drive. On the next play, a personal foul on Bay High moved the ball back 15 yards, bringing up a 2nd down and 16 yards to go.

Two handoffs to David McIver advanced the pigskin to within inches of the first down. Facing a probable punting situation, the Tigers got a break as East Central was again flagged for off sides, giving Bay High's first down.

A handoff to Harold Gillum netted two yards and on the next play, a reverse to McIver advanced the officials again signaled a Tiger infraction, stopping the ball backed the Hornets to their 15.

Bay High's drive reclaimed the lead when a 30 yard field goal by Willie Lewis turned on the after-burners and raced 53 yards on a kick return to the Hornets' 20.

Following the field goal, the game Hornets again drove the ball deep into Tiger territory but on second and goal from the three, Bay High recovered a fumble, holding on to a shaky 10-7 halftime advantage.

A third quarter touchdown pass to Darren Smith accounted for the Tiger's final tally.

The Tigers ended their season on a high note, leading 17-7 over the Hornets in the homecoming game.

McIver then took a handoff and broke free up the middle for a 19 yard gain followed by a pitchout for eight more. He then bulled his way into the endzone from five yards out to cap the drive. Stace McRaney added the extra point, giving Bay High a 7-0 lead.

East Central came right back to knot the contest with a 30 yard TD drive following a Tiger fumble. Jerry Head had intercepted a pass in apparently kill the threat, but the Tigers were charged with roughing the passer, negating the turnover.

Bay High reclaimed the lead with a 30 yard McRaney fieldgoal late in the second stanza after Willie Lewis turned on the after-burners and raced 53 yards on a kick return to the Hornets' 20.

Following the field goal, the game Hornets again drove the ball deep into Tiger territory but on second and goal from the three, Bay High recovered a fumble, holding on to a shaky 10-7 halftime advantage.

A third quarter touchdown pass to Darren Smith accounted for the Tiger's final tally.

Panthers prevent Rock rally to win, 24-14

BY TOM ACKERMAN

When the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws took the field in the second half Friday against the Petal Panthers, it appeared they might be able to overcome a first-half ten-point deficit and grind out a win.

But the Panthers held their margin and came away the victors with a 24-14 win over the Rocks.

"We were flat the first half," commented Rock coach Vernon Powell after the game, understating the point. "We just didn't play football."

The second half, however, was a different story. "We felt like it wasn't too much to overcome," Powell continued. "We felt like we could beat them in the second half."

But in spite of the Rocks determined effort, and some outstanding individual performances, on the downside, it just wasn't enough.

Both teams remained scoreless through the first period of play, but with two minutes gone in the second quarter, 10:11 on the clock, the Rocks got caught deep in their own territory.

Trying to punt out on third down, the Rocks' kick was deflected by the Panthers, caught in flight by Petal, and returned for the first score of the game. The point after was good, and the Panthers were up 7-0.

Things were looking up for the Rocks later in the quarter when they were able to halt a Panther drive by forcing a Petal fumble one yard out from the goal. Rock Todd Thrifley recovered, and the Rocks took over on their own 20.

But the Rock momentum was short-lived. Forced into another punting situation, 4th down and 38 to go, Stanislaus gave Petal a first down on the Rocks 29.

The Panthers passed to the 9, then to the 5. Within fieldgoal range now, Petal set up, and with 57 seconds left in the first half, upped their score to 10, leaving the Rocks scoreless.

It was a different Rock team that took the field in the second half. Whatever coach Powell said in the locker must have had its effect, at least for awhile.

With determination and a desire that seemed to be lacking in the first half, the Rocks looked as if they might be able to make a game of it and overcome their 10-point deficit.

Rock running back Thrifley got the momentum going with a 29-yard carry on the opening kick to give his team a first at their own 49.

Stanislaus quarterback Casey Wittman took it to the Petal 30 on three keepers for a first down, and then followed with a pass to Rock tight end David LeBlanc who carried to the 14 for another first.

On the move now, Wittman reprised with another keeper to move the ball to the 6. Rock running back Mark Logan made a good attempt at getting his team on the board, but the ball was lost on a hard hit, tumbling out of the end-zone boundary, and Petal took over on their own 20 to end the Rock drive.

On Petal's possession, the Rocks got their steam up again when they intercepted a Panther pass at the 30 only to have it denied by the refs.

Undaunted, Rock Jerry Kelly made a replay and recovered a fumble at the 25 to give his team possession and a new lease on the ball.

With the momentum now mounting in the Rock-A-Chaws favor, Wittman carried to the 18 on another keeper, and Logan followed with a run to the 10 for another first down.

On a pitchout from Wittman, Logan made it to the 7, and then carried a Wittman pass across for the score with 3:31 left in the third quarter.

Russ Betcher's kick was good, and the Rocks were back in the ball game.

Attempting an onside kick, the Rocks gave Petal possession at the Panther 42. A long pass brought the opponents to the 17. And another was completed in the end zone with 1:36 showing on the third-period clock to give Petal a 17-7 lead.

With minutes gone in the final period, quarterback Wittman was sidelined momentarily with a bruised thigh. But sub-QB Matt Scardino took up the slack. After a couple of false starts, resulting in a five- and a 15-yard penalty, Scardino connected with Logan who carried to the Petal 13.

Scardino kept to the 9, and Logan followed suit with a pass completion to bring the ball to the one yard line.

Two long counts found Petal sleeping, and the offenses penalties brought the Rocks to within inches of the line. With a good push from the Rock offensive line, Scardino carried for the score. Betcher's conversion was good, and once again the Rocks were on the come-back trail.

Determined to keep Stanislaus off guard, the Panthers completed a long pass on their next series and moved ahead 24-14 to end the scoring.

Although the Rocks weren't able to pull out the win, and although coach Powell wasn't exactly pleased with the outcome—"We've got a lot of work to do this week"—he did find some words of praise for the job Scardino did in the clutch. "We knew all along we had two capable quarterbacks. Matt came in and did a good job for us."

Next week the Rocks have got their work cut out for them as they prepare for a clash with the East Central Hornets for St. Stanislaus' Homecoming.

The festivities will begin Thursday at 4 pm with the annual Homecoming Parade, followed at 7 pm with a pep rally.

Following the Alumni Cocktail Party at 5:30 on Friday, Oct. 21, the Rocks take on the Hornets at the Rock-A-Chaw stadium.

The Homecoming celebration will wind up with a dance in the student union on Saturday, Oct. 22, from 8-12 pm.

The air service fee is 30 cents for parcels weighing two pounds or less, 60 cents for two to three pounds, 90 cents for three to four pounds, and $1.20 for four to 30 pounds.

 SAM (Space Available Mail) is transported by surface means in the 48 states and flown on a space available basis from the U.S. to the overseas destination or from the overseas destination to the U.S.

Packages up to 15 pounds and 60 inches in combined length and girth may be sent by SAM for regular parcel post rates to the U.S. exit port or from the U.S. port of entry.

When mailed from a military post office outside the 48 contiguous states, the weight and size are not more than 70 pounds in weight and not more than 100 inches in length and girth combined.

The summer's curriculum consists of orientations on jet aircraft, career opportunities, human relations education and equal opportunity training. Physical fitness and survival training is also emphasized.

The field training is four weeks, but cadets in the two-year ROTC program receive an additional two weeks of instruction in the development of air power and the contemporary Air Force.

ETV Brief

OIL KINGDOMS

A series of three one-hour documentaries about the ancient Arab kingdoms on the Persian Gulf that have emerged to become "The Oil Kingdoms" can be seen at 10 p.m., Sundays, beginning Oct. 16 on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Produced and hosted by Jo Franklin-Trout, the series was filmed on location in each of the five Persian Gulf states. Ms. Franklin-Trout produced Middle East coverage for five years for "The MacNeil/Lehrer Report." She also was producer of the award-winning "Saudi Arabia" series.

The series begins with "Kings and Pirates," a look back at the region's rich and ancient past, from the days of explorers, pirates, pearl divers, gold smugglers and slave traders to the discovery of oil that moved these small countries into the modern world and enormous wealth. The story is told of the ruling families, their struggles, their customs, and traditions and the way the region has carved out its place in the world today.

St. Monica Guild names 1984 officers

Officers have been elected to serve the St. Monica Guild, Women of Trinity Church in Pass Christian, during 1984, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Theo T. Moore, chairman of the nominating committee.

The slate was presented at the Monday, October 10, meeting of the group and includes: Mrs. Richard Hadden, president; Mrs. Walter A. Martin, vice president; Mrs. John Frith, treasurer; Mrs. Bert Havard, corresponding secretary, all of Pass Christian and Mrs. Nunez (Joe) Pilet, recording secretary, of Bay St. Louis.

These officers will be installed in December 1983, and assume duties January 1984.

A brief history of church music was given by Mrs. B.B. Cummings who touched on music as the universal language and told of the influence of the early Jewish people in chants and hymns used in current hymnals, also the music of the Egyptians used long before the coming of Christ.

Mrs. Randall C. Jones, pianist, accompanied several selections given by Mrs. Cummings.

"A carol," Mrs. Cummings explained, is a melody harmonized. "In ancient times music was primarily written for the male voice, she said and added that women's voices were used primarily as mourners at funerals. In conclusion Mrs. Cummings spoke of contributions made by Martin Luther and Sebastian Bach.

Mrs. Rosamond Wallace presided at the punch service during a reception following the program and Mrs. Dudley Jackson and Mrs. C.C. Rick Sr. assisted.

Central High School. She attended Pearl River Junior College and Phillips College in Gulfport and is employed by Dr. D.J. Inkol of Pass Christian.

manager of a Winn-Dixie food store in Biloxi.

The couple will solemnize vows October 22 in a 1 p.m. ceremony at Annunciation Catholic Church with reception following at Jourdan River Shores Club House in Kiln. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

BWGC hosts Flower Show school

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Flower Show Judges Council sponsored Flower Show School - Course I at the Bay-Waveland Garden Center October 4-6. This was the first of five courses that will be presented to members wishing to become Accredited Flower Show Judges or others wanting to become better informed.

The National Accredited Flower Show School instructors were Mrs. C.E. Flint, horticulture, from Batesville and Mrs. V.J. Lucas, design, from Hattiesburg. There were 63 attending with 18 taking the exam for credit.

The BWGC members hosted the school providing hospitality and delicious lunches.

Flower Show School Course II will be held in Long Beach April 24-26, 1984. More information on this course may be obtained by contacting Mrs. John Holmes, Bay St. Louis.

Pass Christian Gardeners to landscape park gazebo

The Pass Christian Garden Club met at the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club, Thursday, October 6.

Vice President Elaine Thornton opened the meeting and introduced Gerald Corcoran, curator for Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, who presented a slide program on "Wildflowers."

The slides included beautiful flowers growing wild in Mississippi, many of which can be seen growing here along the Coast. Among them are wild azaleas, violets, passion flowers and several types of wild orchids.

Following Mr. Corcoran's presentation, Mrs. Rosemond Wallace, Wildflower Garden chairman, reported that Nell

Eubanks, Mattie Bell Martin, Liz Hedgepeth, Dorothy Howell, Maureen Newcomb and Mary Schultz had volunteered to help her work toward the beautification of the wildflower garden in Pass Christian in anticipation of increased visits by New Orleans World's Fair tourists.

Mrs. Emily Audley, hospitality chairman, asked for donations for the annual Silver Tea which will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Lee Stanbro in December.

Mrs. Gertrude Brown reported on the bazaar and bake sale held Oct. 14 at the Hancock Bank Building in Pass Christian. All members were asked to contribute handcrafted articles, baked goods or plants.

Bird Chairman Millie Shea noted that this is the height of the migration season and members should be on the lookout for birds they may never have seen before. Some of these birds will stay through the winter and others will migrate further south after a brief rest stop. Cedar waxwings have been spotted at the library. She also reported that she had been watching a family of 17 quail in her yard for several weeks and finds it most interesting that only one of the 17 has been lost.

Shirley Doe informed the club that the Park and Planning Committee has decided on a site for the gazebo which will be built in War Memorial Park in Pass Christian. It will be behind the flag pole, centered between the sidewalks. The ground breaking ceremony will take place in about three weeks. The Garden Club will landscape the gazebo upon its completion.

The Gulf Coast Council met October 7 at the Diamondhead Country Club with Estella Drevar representing the Pass Christian Garden Club.

Mrs. Elaine Thornton issued an invitation from the Dogwood Garden Club to all members to attend their Fall Flower Show. It will take place at the home of Mrs. William Denton, 1924 West Beach, Biloxi on Wednesday, October 26 from 3-5 p.m.

A beautiful plant, donated by Adams-Lorraine Florists, as door prize, was won by Mrs. Gerry Bishop.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Elie Boudreaux, Mrs. Gerry Bishop and their committee.

Museum of Indian Artifacts site of Coast DAR meeting

By JOE PILET

Vice Regent

Friendship Oak Chapter National Society DAR

American Indians of the Southeast was the subject of a lecture given by Mrs. Jack Wright on Saturday when members of the Friendship Oak Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Museum of Indian Artifacts north of Gulfport.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Philip R. Davenport of Bay St. Louis and James E. Young of Long Beach. An Indian type feast prepared by these ladies was served from long tables overlaid with brightly woven fabrics of Indian design.

Decorations included dried Indian corn interspersed with greenery and vegetables known to the Indians prior to Columbus' discovery of America and including potatoes, pumpkins, squash, peppers. On the menu were favorite Indian delicacies of Indian corn, such as pumpkin and persimmon bread, Indian puddings, and tamales.

Prior to the luncheon, the group had a guided tour of the museum with comments and demonstrations made by both Mr. and Mrs. Wright. They explained the building was constructed from lumber that came from a German prisoner of war barracks and was built by 11 Virginia soldiers.

demonstrated the use of some stones including choppers, drills, stunners (a blunt type of rock that felled an animal without a puncture wound, since punctures would deflate cost of furs), and hammer stones, said to be eight or ten thousand years old, were shown.

Recommended as an excellent reference and guide is a book entitled "Indians and Artifacts in the Southeast." Mrs. Wright said it was useful in identifying pottery, arrow heads, etc. Of pottery making, Mrs. Wright said: "hair, sand, and crushed shells were used as binders in the pottery making art."

WAVELAND GARDEN WINNER—The Bay-Waveland Garden Club has designated the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashby Etheridge as Waveland Garden of the Month for October, 1983. Mr. and Mrs. Etheridge live at 106 Johnson Street in Idlewood Subdivision. Because the soil there is marshy, Mrs. Etheridge, who is originally from England, chose to use the "container" gardening design that is popular in English pubs and inns. The numerous barrels that provide the focus for the garden are painted to match the trim on the Etheridge home. (Staff photo by Nan Patton Ehrbright)

The famed Sauce Piquante of the Creoles and Cajuns, which enhances so many dishes, came about, I am sure, through the efforts of some cook or other seeking to disguise yesterday's leftovers as today's masterpiece... after all, that's how so many of our finest dishes were born!

And today, Chicken Sauce Piquante, Rabbit or Squirrel Sauce Piquante, along with shrimp, and even alligator, (which, I am told, tastes like chicken, though I haven't yet tried it) rate highly on the gourmet lists.

Larousse Gastronomique, the Bible of Bibles for aspiring cooks, defines Sauce Piquante as "a sauce for small cuts of meat and other leftover meat dishes" — a sort of devilled sauce of meat essence and wine vinegar boiled down with butter and seasonings.

One or two early Creole-style cookbooks also list Sauce Piquante as "a sauce for leftover fish and meat, with chopped sour pickles, with a brown sauce base."

Somewhere along the line, or so it seems to me, some inspired cook added the tomatoes or tomato sauce — and thus was born a masterpiece of cookery.

I was stirring up a Sauce Piquante a few weeks ago, inspired somewhat by long-time friend Bill Stanley's comments on the Sauce Piquante Festival in South Louisiana's Lafourche Parish, on the "Breakfast Edition" program which he and Meg Orr (who's also the winsome weather gal) host on station WDSU out of New Orleans each weekday morning.

I was still stirring and cooking up that sauce when the phone calls started coming in as to how to make the Sauce Piquante Bill and Meg had been talking about on their show.

I keep telling Bill how many friends and listeners he has over our way!

After I'd repeated the recipe two dozen times or so, I thought I'd best write it out for the others who'd be wanting it. I was making chicken and sauce that day, but it's delicious with whatever you have on hand... whether it swims or hops or whatever, and it's even good with plain old stuffed eggs. Here's my version of:

CHICKEN SAUCE PIQUANTE
1 or 2 frying chickens, cut in pieces

5 Tbsp. oil
2 Tbsp. flour
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped onion
1 bell pepper, chopped
3 pods garlic, chopped
2 bay leaves
Grated rind of lemon, or a few lemon slices
Dashes of Tabasco, Worcestershire, sauté, thyme, red and black pepper, according to your taste and tolerance
2 cans tomato sauce, or 1 lg. can tomatoes
Minced green onion tops, optional

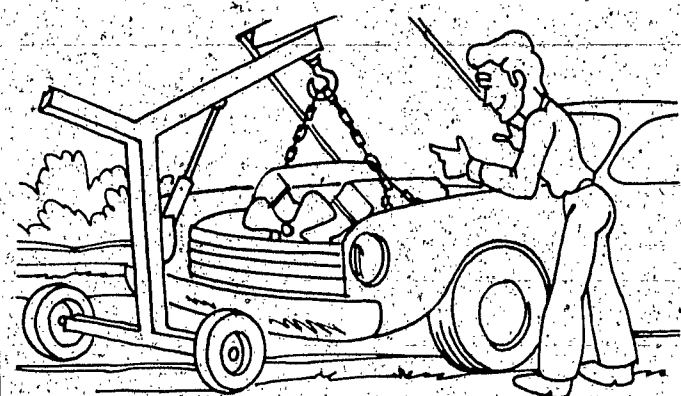

Add the flour to the oil in your heavy skillet, brown to make your roux, stirring all the while, then add the onions, frying them off slowly till they're well browned and pulpy.

Add the other vegetables and seasonings, then add the tomato sauce, and cook a half hour or so over low heat. Add the chicken and cook until tender. Cook over low heat for about an hour, and if you wish, add a cup of burgundy during the cooking time.

You may need to add a little water, depending upon the consistency you want. I like it rather thickish. I like to add a handful of parsley and green onion tops, sprinkling this atop pot and letting the whole business stay on the fire till the parsley starts to curl up.

Serve over or with rice to four or more hungry diners. (Copyright, 1983, Katharine D. M. Caire)

Hancock County Forester

The vital role of Mississippi's forests in serving domestic and nationwide needs for wood and paper products — and in providing environmental and recreational benefits as well — is the theme of Forest Products Week in Mississippi, Oct. 16-22.

Governor William Winter has proclaimed a statewide observance to draw attention to Mississippi's abundant forest resource and its contribution to a healthy economy and environment.

"Throughout history, our forests have served us in so many vital respects that we sometimes forget this extraordinary renewable natural resource. The growing and harvesting of trees, and the work force that turns them into useful products, make a valuable contribution to Mississippi's economic well-being, and to providing homes and a healthy outdoor environment for our people," Winter said.

State Forester Robert S.

(Sid) Moss joined Governor Winter in extolling the virtues of Mississippi's forest heritage.

"We are blessed with forests that can be the most productive in the world if they are managed properly," declared Moss.

"At the same time, our timberland produces environmental benefits such as watershed and wildlife protection, and recreational opportunities for Mississippians of all ages who love the outdoors."

The forest products industry employs one of every five Mississippians holding jobs in manufacturing, according to recent figures.

Mississippi leads the nation in number of tree farms. More than 5,300 Mississippi landowners participate in the program.

Last year, 196 thousand acres of trees were planted in Mississippi — a new single year reforestation record.

The series that will begin on ETV on Oct. 16 is composed of two different series originally broadcast on the BBC in the mid-70s and totals 41 episodes.

"All Creatures" is based on Herriot's first four novels about his experiences as a newly qualified veterinary surgeon.

Bee-wise: Use Mississippi Honey

By Ann O. Rushing
Extension Marketing
Specialist

Honey can add a delicious sparkle to menus. It is a natural sweet and is a native crop of Mississippi. It needs no preservative, no coloring agents, no stabilizer or special protection.

Bees not only make honey, they pollinate many important crops. More than 100 important agricultural fruits and seed crops—such as peaches, apples, cherries, blueberries, strawberries, cucumbers and melons—depend on bees for their production, and yield more abundantly when bees are plentiful.

The flavor of honey can be as varied as the nectar of the flowers collected by the bees.

The color, flavor and aroma of honey are largely determined by the nectar of the flower. Some of the flowers which attract bees are clover, basswood, buckwheat, orange, goldenrod, sage, thistle, cotton and cactus.

Grades of honey are determined by flavor, absence of defects and clarity. Color is not a grade factor since good honey can be many different colors.

Most people, however, prefer the lighter colored honey. The most common grades are U.S. Fancy or Grade A choice or Grade B. Any liquid honey which is graded U.S. Fancy or Grade A should be thick enough to stay on a spoon heavily.

Much of the honey on the market is a blend of different flavor types. By blending honey, brands can be kept uniform in color and flavor. If a honey is labeled a single pure flavor it must contain at least 51 percent of a single flavor.

Everyone recognizes the golden liquid honey displayed in bottles on market shelves. But honey comes packaged in many other ways, too.

Creamed honey is stocked on grocer's shelves and honey butters are kept in the refrigerator section. Also available are attractive plastic squeeze bottles filled with liquid honey—just the thing for serving at the table.

Economical five pound containers of honey conveniently refill the squeeze bottles and are handy for other uses.

Comb honey is comb sections with honey. Chunk honey is pieces of comb in a container with liquid honey.

Honey doesn't spoil. It requires no refrigeration. Keep it handy on the kitchen shelf.

It is natural for liquid honey to crystallize. When it does, use the crystals as a spread or an ingredient in cooking and baking. But if you prefer the honey in liquid form, stand the container in a pan of moderately hot (not boiling) water until the honey crystals dissolve.

Honey may be used, measure for measure, in place of sugar in prepared puddings, custards, pie fillings, baked apples, candied and "sweet-sour" vegetables, salad dressings, and cinnamon toasts.

Brushed or drizzled on ham during the last half-hour of baking, honey adds flavor and gives a golden glaze.

For cakes and cookies made with honey, recipes developed especially with honey as an ingredient will give best results.

Use mild-flavored (light) honey for bland dishes. Honey with strong flavor (darker) may be used in spice cake, gingerbread, brownies, and in other rather highly flavored products. Bee-wise: Follow these directions when using honey as a substitute for sugar.

One cup of honey contains 3/4 cup of liquid. When using 1 cup of honey in place of a cup of sugar, deduct 1/4 cup of liquid from the recipe.

In baking, use 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon of soda for each cup of honey in addition to the amount of baking powder called for.

Use a lower oven heat because honey products brown easily and might burn before being cooked.

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held jointly by the Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Pollution Control and the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District (WRWMD). The public hearing will be held on Monday, November 28, 1983, at 7:00 p.m. in the Waveland Public Library, 333 Coleman Avenue, Waveland, Mississippi.

The public hearing will be held for the purpose of formally receiving public comments on both the proposed revision of the Gulf Coast Area Wastewater Management Plan (200 Plan) of November, 1983 and the 1983 Update to the 201 Facilities Plan (201 Plan) for Hancock County, Mississippi. This proposed revision has been developed by the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District and reflects a change in management agency responsible for wastewater treatment in Hancock County.

The 1983 Update to the 201 Facilities Plan was completed pursuant to the provisions of Section 201 of Public Law 95-217, the 1977 amendments to the Clean Water Act. This 201 Plan update addresses the current and projected sewerage needs for Hancock County. The 201 Plan calls for the construction, management, financing, operation and maintenance of the treatment facilities needed in Hancock County.

Documentation in the form of:

- (1) The 1983 Update to the 201 Facilities Plan for Hancock County, Mississippi; and
- (2) The Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Pollution Control, Gulf Coast 208 Plan Revision of November 1983 Summary Report will be available in the following public facilities on or before October 28, 1983 for public review:

The Hancock County Courthouse, Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

The public is urged to review the documentation and to provide comments, so that its views can be considered in the selection of the Gulf Coast Wastewater Management plan revision of November, 1983 and the 1983 Update to the 201 Facilities Plan for Hancock County, Mississippi. The Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District will make a presentation beginning at 7:00 p.m. followed by a question and answer period. Public comments from the public are encouraged.
